

Re: Follow-up to the Colorado site
Albuquerque - CDLE, Mahesh

to:

Jack Hwang

01/30/2013 02:30 PM

Hide Details

From: "Albuquerque - CDLE, Mahesh" <mahesh.albuquerque@state.co.us>

To: Jack Hwang/R3/USEPA/US@EPA,

History: This message has been replied to.

Hi Jack - I think we may be able to schedule the video camera internal inspection in the spring. The owner was interested in removing the tanks in late spring/early summer. I am on my way back to Denver from meetings in Charleston SC today and will find out details from the owner about their tank removal schedule later this week. Lets talk early next week. Thanks.

Mahesh

On Wed, Jan 30, 2013 at 11:49 AM, <Hwang.Jack@epamail.epa.gov> wrote:

Dear Mahesh:

Greetings!

I just want to check back with you about the status of that E-85 tank failure at a Fleet Maintenance Shop in Denver. The UST was initially scheduled to be removed in the fall of 2012. and the owner has agreed to provide access to the tank to conduct internal video camera inspection while it is still in the ground. Later, the owner decided to remove the other tanks all together in the spring of 2013.

Well, our EPA contract with Battelle has been modified recently so that we can pay the contractor to perform the video cam as a pre-inspection. Do you think we can do it before the spring? Jack

Jack Hwang

US EPA Region III in Philadelphia

215-814-3387 (Phone); 215-814-3163 (Fax)

hwang.jack@epa.gov

--

Mahesh Albuquerque, Director
Division of Oil and Public Safety
633 17th Street, Suite 500
Denver, CO 80202-3610
303-318-8502

www.colorado.gov/cdle/ops

We Keep Colorado Working